

White Is Write-In Trustee Candidate In Friday Voting

Gaiennie Will Be Candidate On Grammar School Board

Frank Gaiennie this morning said he would be a write-in candidate on the grammar school board to replace N. F. Dolley.

At the insistence of friends, C. B. White, former manager of Truckee branch, Bank of America, and widely known Truckee resident and property owner, this week announced that he would permit his name to be written in as a candidate for trustee of the Meadow Lake Union High School board.

White is thoroughly familiar with the requirements of the school and has had more than enough financial experience to qualify him as an authority on the management of school funds.

He declined to let his name to be used until last week when Mrs. Lotta Bryant, for years the clerk of the board, announced that she would not be a candidate for re-election under any circumstances. A. Schmidt Florston, whose term also expires, did not announce his candidacy for re-election, so that post is left wide open for a second write-in. Mr. Schmidt has served faithfully and has not said he would not serve if elected again so it is quite probable that his friends will return him to the post he has held for many years.

On the grammar school board, the term of N. F. Dolley expires. Dolley has emphatically refused to be a candidate for re-election although he has been urged to return to the office by friends who have watched the progress made in the school during his incumbency and presidency of the board.

The elections will be both held in the grammar school Friday, May 15, between two and six o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Cora Maxson, Mrs. Winifred McGinnis and Mrs. Crystal Nelson are the election board.

LIONS LADIES WILL BE HONORED WITH DINNER MAY 20TH

H. T. Langille and A. P. Leitch are on the Lions Club committee to make arrangements for a ladies night entertainment at the River House next Wednesday evening. The committee was named at the meeting last Wednesday by President N. F. Dolley.

The affair promises to be a big event and nearly all members and their wives will attend.

DEAL PENDING FOR BUYING LAKE WATER

FALLON, May 14— Directors of the Truckee-Carson Irrigation Project announced Tuesday that they are considering an offer to sell the project Donner Lake storage rights.

G. A. Starkweather, who made the offer, suggested the project and the Sierra Pacific Power Company may be able to make a joint deal for the Donner Lake water, the present storage capacity of which is 10,000 acre feet.

Another Son Arrives For Truckee Couple

Andrea, Jr., has been chosen as the name of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrea Oroz who arrived at Reno on May 8.

The young man weighed nearly six pounds at birth and mother and son are reported doing nicely.

☀ Sun ☀ Beams

by WALTER M. BARRETT

A tragic automobile accident this week snuffed out the life of Honeybunch Boyiaredes, one of Tahoe's most widely known and genial residents. There was never anyone who would respond more quickly or do more for a friend in distress than Chris. His friends were legion and in our six years of acquaintance with him we have yet to hear anything but friendly reports about the little fellow with the big heart. His most tragic death was a severe shock to his scores of friends and his passing will leave a deep wound on the community where he spent so many years of his life. Will Rogers once said: "I have never met a man I didn't like" and we believe sincerely that might have well been said by Chris Boyiaredes. We were proud to call him friend.

Tomorrow elections will be held to seat trustees in both the high and elementary school boards. There are no filed candidates so the election will be by the write-in method. This makes it doubly important that the electorate respond and select the people best qualified for the important task of administering the affairs of our local schools. Our schools are big business in which we all share and it is most important that we assume the interest we should in their welfare. Vote at the grammar school tomorrow between 2 and 6.

Truckee and this entire district is finding considerable satisfaction in the new highway patrol setup here and while it is now divorced from Nevada County, it forms a local unit of five patrolmen and a sergeant under the jurisdiction of the Placer County captain at the present time. The office, where drivers' licenses, transfers and other clerical necessities can be taken care of is now open and it is no longer necessary to drive more than 100 miles to have this service rendered. The highways are more thoroughly patrolled than ever in the past and last but not least the community enjoys a payroll advance of some $15,000 annually. It is a program of efficiency and we hope it can be continued indefinitely without interruption.

County Fair Will Be Abandoned This Year

The 17th Agricultural District directors have voted to abandon plans for Nevada County's 1942 fair.

The exposition was scheduled to be held the latter part of August. Action by the Nevada County Fair directors was similar to that taken by other counties throughout the state. C. Edmunds of Truckee is a member of the board.

COUNTY POLITICS

TOBIASSEN SEEKS REELECTION IN FALL

Carl J. Tobiasen, sheriff of Nevada County for the past eight years, announced this week that he will seek reelection at the August primaries.

The sheriff needs no introduction to the people of the county, for he is known by virtually everyone. He has conducted law enforcement in the county in its greatest period of development and has seen the expansion of work of that office many fold in the past two terms.

Sheriff Tobiasen is a native of Nevada County, and has resided within its limits all his life, rearing a large and widely known family of children.

In seeking reelection, Sheriff Tobiasen points out the fact that now, perhaps as never before, experience is needed in the sheriff's office to assist the federal and state authorities in combating espionage, sabotage and subversive activities.

Sheriff Tobiasen and his able deputies are fully cognizant of the dangers which exist, for they have attended Federal Bureau of Investigation and other schools of instruction and have learned of the methods used by enemies of this country and how to combat them.

The sheriff and his staff have ably assisted FBI and are organized to give assistance at any moment to the military, federal and state authorities. Sheriff Tobiasen was one of the prime movers in the county civilian

MCCORMACK AGAIN IN CLERK'S CONTEST

In another column of this issue appears the announcement of candidacy of R. N. McCormack, who seeks reelection to the office of Nevada County Clerk and Auditor, which position he has held for the past 11 years. Previous to his term he served as deputy under his uncle, the late George Coughlan, who held the office for six consecutive terms.

"Mac", as he is known to everyone has thus practically grown up in the office. It is safe to say that no man is better informed as to the financial affairs of the county than he. As auditor, he is the county's bookkeeper and every cent of money paid into the treasury has to go through his office in the form of a "pay in" and when it is paid out the warrant must bear his signature.

During the years that have passed since he went into the office there have been many additional duties added thereto.

The budget system of handling the county expenditures has been installed by law and the preparation of this budget is under his direct supervision. The other county officers look to him for advice and assistance in the preparation of this budget to the end that it must be correctly prepared before being submitted to the board of supervisors for approval.

Another big task which has been added to the duties of the office is that of old age pensions and blind

Local Red Cross Gains From Sale Of Collections

The Truckee branch of the American Red Cross has deposited $44.59 in the bank since the first of May from the sale of salvaged newspapers and magazines and from change jars placed in business places.

The amount of $17.69 was realized from the deposits of small change and $26.90 from the papers which were hauled and sold in Sacramento through the courtesy of Joe Saia.

The collection of salvage materials will continue and all persons having newspapers, magazines, clean rags knocked down carton, salvagable metals and rubber articles are requested to sort and tie them in bundles for each type of material, preparatory to compact shipment, and take them to the C. E. Smith building opposite the Donner Hotel, where they will be stored until sufficient weight has been received for disposal.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY SLATED FRIDAY AT TRUCKEE SCHOOL

Under the direction of Miss Ann Marie Munro, the students of the local high school will present their annual show tomorrow night at the grammar school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The curtain will rise promptly and everyone is urged to be on hand. The play this year, Fly Away Home, a three-act comedy written by Dorothy Bennett and Irving White promises to be an outstanding bit of entertainment. The cast has worked faithfully and hard getting parts perfected and following their final rehearsals tonight, they will be ready for the big event tomorrow.

The play had a successful run on Broadway where it won the approval of all critics and the local school feels fortunate in being able to present it here.

Slippery Highway Causes Death Of Popular Lake Man

Last Rites Held For Chris Boyiaredes At Tahoe On Wednesday

Chris Boyiaredes, 51, for the past 50 years a resident of Tahoe City, where for the past year he had operated a lunch room and soft drink establishment, met instant death on Monday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock when the car in which he was riding skidded on the wet pavement and overturned just north of Big Chief Camp on the Truckee river. Boyiaredes was crushed under the car.

A companion, Arnold C. Dupy, 26, driver of the Truckee-Tahoe stage, was thrown clear but suffered critical injuries. He was taken to the S. P. Hospital in San Francisco where yesterday it was reported he was in a semi-conscious condition.

The two men were returning to Tahoe where Dupy was scheduled to bring the stage from Tahoe to Truckee when the car skidded and after getting out of control, overturned several times.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goss of Tahoe arrived on the tragic scene soon after and attempted to give aid to Boyiaredes, whom they found beyond human aid. They rushed the injured Dupy to Dr. J. H. Bernard for treatment and dispatched aid to the scene of the crash.

The car was virtually demolished. Boyiaredes had been a summer resident of Tahoe for 30 years and he and his wife, Rose, managed the Tavern Laundry until a year ago. They spent their winters in Castle Hot Springs, Arizona. Last Spring they purchased the lunch room and were gaining a nice start in business for themselves and had purchased a beautiful home at Tahoe. They were one of the most widely known and popular couples in the district.

Because of his perpetual friendly greeting to his many friends, all of whom were known to Boyiaredes as "Honeybunch" he gained that intimate nickname and throughout the entire region Honeybunch was known and liked.

Father William Daly conducted the last rites held yesterday morning at Tahoe City in the Community Center at 10 o'clock. The Laity Funeral Home of Truckee was in charge of the arrangements and shipped the body to San Francisco where mass will be read at the chapel. Burial will be under the direction of the American Legion. Boyiaredes was a member of Truckee Post No. 439 and seldom missed a meeting.

Pall bearers yesterday were Capt. Charles LaPorte of Roseville, Sergeant Berle Reynolds of Truckee, Sergeant Everett McKee of Sacramento, Constable Harry Johansen of Tahoe, Inspector Harvey Blackwell of Sacramento and Norman Mayfield of Tahoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Capanis of San Francisco, brother in law and sister of the deceased and their daughter, Miss Tina and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dalas of San Francisco all arrived for the funeral. The hall was filled with sorrowing friends and the casket was banked with flowers giving mute evidence of the esteem in which Boyiaredes was held.

Sergeant Reynolds and Patrolman Grover Todt are continuing their investigation of the tragedy.

Tahoe Couple Learn Of Death Of Close Friend

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Garner received the sad news of the death on Sunday of William N. Baker at French Corral. Baker was a frequent visitor at the home of the Lake Tahoe couple who were his close friends. Services were held at Nevada City.

CORREGIDOR ISN'T CONQUERED

Up in Canada, at a camp called "Little Norway," a little band of big blond men is in training as a unit of the Royal Norwegian Air Force. Each man of them has escaped from his Nazi-ruled homeland—and has made the hard sacrifice of leaving his own flesh and blood to the mercies of the enemy in order to follow his duty.

Interviewed on a national radio hookup the other day, one of those Norse patriots was asked:

"How does it feel to be in your country when it is conquered?"

Quietly the soldier rebuked the interviewer:

"Norway isn't conquered: it is occupied."

Has Corregidor been conquered? General MacArthur answered that question with finality on his first day in Australia, weeks before disease and privation and sheer exhaustion in face of limitless force turned the tide on Bataan. He said he would lead American forces back to the Philippines and drive out the last Jap and run up Old Glory on every flagstaff in Manila.

Nothing American has ever been conquered, because the American people have never been conquered. American blood has soaked the soil of battlefields of defeat—Bunker Hill, the Alamo, Bataan, Corregidor. Even the city of Washington has been invaded and its capitol was burned. But no enemy has ever maintained a stand on American ground.

Corregidor isn't conquered. It is occupied.

FIRST FISH STORY

While waiting for the first whopping tale to come in from the field forces of the current California trout season, we present this specimen as an out-of-state sample:

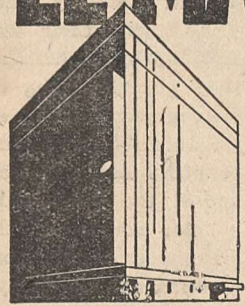

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Anderson of Vidalia, Georgia, reported that a dominicker hen followed them to a river where they planned to fish. The hen dunked her head in for a drink. A two-pound bass promptly nabbed her. The fish wouldn't let go and the hen couldn't. But the dominicker yanked the fish ashore, where the Andersons captured and cooked it. The hen strutted away, clucking indignantly.

The Andersons, the Georgia papers say, are people of excellent reputation for sobriety and truth, and—well anyway, it's something for California fish tale tellers to shoot at, and the season's yet young.

MY PLACE IN THE SUN

by DOUG BARKETT

And then there's the character who spends a small fortune getting rid of E. O., Double O, halitosis, patent leather shine, four o'clock shadow, tattle-tale gray, etc., only to find his friends didn't like him anyway.

Some wierd individual with a khaki trench coat, pork pie hat, bow tie and glassy stare reported to me that he was going to write my name in for school trustee tomorrow at the elections out of vengeance for the time I stuck lighted bamboo slivers in his toe-nails as he slept. I went to my knees and begged for anything but that. Seriously—and sincerely—I am not a candidate for trustee of either school here. I don't know that I am qualified in the first place and I don't know—what with selective service and all—whether I will be in Truckee long enough to get on a board even if elected. It is my strongest recommendation that someone with a taxpayer's or parent's interest in the school should be admirably qualified for your write-in vote tomorrow. Polls are open at the grammar school from two to six p. m. so take some time off to go and exercise the rights that men are dying to save.

The local Knights of Pythias will hold their annual roll call ceremonies in the grammar school auditorium on Saturday night and all of you are invited to attend. The program will begin promptly at eight bells and will include speechifying by isting dignitaries from Nevada and California, musical interludes, red fezzes and everything. It's going to be quite an affair and you will be sorry to miss—so don't.

IMPORTANT OPINONS ARE HANDED DOWN BY WARREN

SACRAMENTO, May 14, (UP)—The state social welfare board may grant retroactive old age aid to persons who appeal to the board after their assistance has been cut off, Attorney General Earl Warren ruled this week.

Another opinion held that only sheriffs have the authority to retake escaped patients of state mental hospitals unless crimes have been committed by the fugitives.

In cases where crimes have been committed, institutional employees can enter private homes by force to make arrests.

The state board of education was held to have power in another opinion to authorize publication of teachers' manuals.

In Fresno County, 500 carrier pigeons are being trained for messenger service by defense council personnel.

THE MAN AT THE KEYHOLE

by OPERATIVE WB

Chiropractors and the regular M. D.'s who have engaged in intermittent feuding for years past, are heading into another pitched battle at the polls in November. Rival initiative acts, governing healing arts and practices, are slated to go before the voters. The doctors' proposal is to be known as the basic science bill, while the chro's call their measure the basic subjects bill. To the average layman, it's about as clear as a prescription.

How times do change! Petition solicitors for the measure to repeal the State Income Tax report that men who wear buttons—particularly in the shipyards and aircraft factories—are signing the repealer petition with greater alacrity than any other group. Originally, labor sponsored the tax. But now labor pays it!

It will be a sad day, indeed, for Communists, Fascists and other subversive elements if Assemblyman Jack Tenney, who is being urged to run for attorney general, is elected to that office. Tenney, head of the legislative committee investigating subversive activities, knows where the bodies are buried and wouldn't hesitate to exhume them! Mr Tenney isn't a red-baiter; in fact he's a thorough-going liberal, but he's death on any form of disloyalty to the U. S. A.

HE STARTED SOMETHING

Madame Ritz, widow of the hotel man who made his name famous around the world, told me how one thing changed her husband's life. He was born in Switzerland, a peasant, and his first years were spent herding cows and sheep in the Swiss Alps. He left the hamlet where he was born, went to the hotel in Rigi in the high Alps, and got a job as waiter.

Rigi wasn't even a town, merely a hotel where people came for mountain climbing and to watch the dawn march down out of the mountains. A beautiful spot. Sometimes the place would be vacant; then suddenly a party of mountain climbers would arrive and the hotel would be filled with Saratoga trunks from New York, calfskin bags from Piccadilly Circus in London and gay bandboxes from Vuiton's in Paris.

One morning a cold wave marched up out of those towering peaks—and the heating plant in the hotel broke down. Think of that! A hotel half way up a mountain, in the land of perpetual snow, and no heat! The thermometer announced eight below zero.

The telephone rang. An urgent call from a travel agency. They were sending a party of fashionable tourists up to this crag-clung hotel; forty of them; rich, demanding, critical. The aristocracy of Europe; people who would demand the best, and who would be willing to pay for it.

The manager wrung his hands. Forty people arriving at an ice plant. They would spread the word. He would be ruined. But the party had already started and would soon arrive.

To Pitch for U. S.

Leatherneck lieutenants prepare for pitching "gifts" to the Axis powers. They are two of a class of 200 undergoing instructions in all methods of fighting at the corps basic school at Indiantown Gap, Pa. Picture shows them learning the correct technique of tossing hand grenades.

One of the waiters was a quick thinker, a man who could meet emergencies. Yes, Ritz. "I can take care of them," he said.

The manager stared. What! a waiter! there was nothing else to do, so the manager told him to try his hand.

Ritz transformed the hotel. He moved the small dining-room tables into the drawing room. Then he called for four large copper bowls, in which stood artificial palms as part of the decorative scheme. He ripped out the palms and filled the bowls with methylated spirits and set them going. He then produced the men and struck off all cold dishes and put on piping hot temptations. Next he put forty hot bricks at the tables.

The guests arrived, with brisk appetites, and saw a little mountain heaven waiting them. They sat down in the cheerful drawing room and put their feet on the hot bricks at the tables.

They hardly noticed the temperature.

The story spread of how a waiter had saved the day. One day a most important looking man arrived and asked to see the waited whose name he didn't even know. This man was the owner of the Grand Hotel National in Switzerland—the most fashionable and exclusive hotel at Lucerne. He offered that waiter a job in his hotel. Oh, no! not as a waiter, but as manager. Ritz accepted it and from that day his rise in the hotel world began.

GOOD-BY DEFENSE

The word defense is giving way slowly to other words far more pleasant to American ears. Defense bonds are now War Bonds; defense stamps are war stamps. Today one hears more of victory, war, offense and less of defense. And yet there was point to the old slogan; because there was a time—not so long ago—when we were desperately short of the mere weapons with which to protect ourselves—mischief weapons with which to attack an enemy; when people were complaining—without cause—that we had an isolated anti-aircraft gun or two a few hundred semi-modern airplanes, no rifles to speak of, few soldiers and practically no ammunition or mobile equipment.

It was during those days that the word defense became the vogue and it was a well-chosen word, because we were sitting on a volcano with out even a pair of asbestos breeches on. Fortunately, neither Bolivia nor Uruguay was entertaining thoughts of empire, and Germany and Japan had a bit of knitting to attend to on the other side of the globe. But most people realized that we should buy a few new revolvers if we didn't want to be divided up at the end of the wars abroad, so we dug up the word "defense."

Well that word worked wonders. It did a big job and it didn't deserve the abuse it is now getting. It made all Americans conscious of the fact that we must prepare to protect ourselves against prowling wolves. It changed the psychology of a complacent nation and brought home to it the dangers with which it was surrounded. Soon rose the cry for more guns, more tanks, more ships, more planes. The draft law was passed and America began to prepare in earnest for whatever might occur.

But now the old word is losing its value to us and is becoming "dated." We have some guns now, and planes and tanks; and each day they are coming out of the factories in ever increasing numbers.

Yesterday invasion of America was a possibility; today it could not be accomplished successfully; tomorrow it would be laughable even to contemplate it—at least until the huge airplane of the future get into circulation.

Today new words are coming in to fashion—offensive, attack, victory. These words have drifted in on the tide of accomplishment in our national preparation. They are returning to the lips of Americans who had to be reminded by McArthur and his men that their countrymen had always been the best fighters in history. They are taking the place of our old friend "defense" because they have now earned their right to recognition. Their return is just a natural sequence of events; and though the news abroad is pretty dismal, we all know that our country is growing stronger by leaps and bounds while the enemy we believe is growing weaker. So the new words pop out naturally and our old pal "defense" is doubtless happy to retire on his laurels—not unhonored nor unsung. Let us see to it that the new words are as stimulating as the old one was.

Tahoe Kwikies

TAHOE CITY, May 14.— The Tahoe Gun Club met at the Stanley Martin home Friday last week for their regular meeting, instead of Thursday, as that night was already scheduled for the fire district confab. Eleven members enjoyed the Martins' hospitality, tasty refreshments being served at the conclusion of business discussion. Mrs. Bill La Marr resigned as secretary of the club and was given a vote of thanks for her splendid services which kept her secretary of the organization for three years or since the club's formation. Stanley Martin will take over her duties.

The lake level on Monday stood at 6228.32 with 685 CSF of water leaving the dam at Tahoe City.

Groans and curses were intermingled among the populace Monday when residents of the region awoke to find the landscape again covered with varying degrees of snow. In the Sunnyside region about a foot of new snow fell, with reports from Homewood estimating 16 inches with less in the Tahoe City area. Snow was continuing to fall Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Druhn of San Francisco arrived Saturday at the R. F. Walker home "Unaliyi" in the Sunnyside district to prepare for the opening of the summer season. Mr. and Mrs. Walker are expected on May 15.

The Tahoe Public Camp ground near Tahoe Park will be open to the vacating public in the near future, according to Fire Warden Charles Arment, the weather being the pertinent factor in the exact date. Burning permits will be required from now until December 1, Arment said.

Mrs. Robert Huston will serve as assistant librarian to Mrs. Anne B. Anderson in the library at Tahoe Community Center throughout the summer season, a proof of the continued growth of our local community.

Charles Arment Speaks At Session On Thursday P. M.

TAHOE CITY, May 14.— The special meeting last Thursday night at the Tahoe Community Center was well attended. The chief speaker was Charles Arment, fire warden at Tahoe Park who spoke on fire protection and fire prevention. A special effort is being made to persuade local men to form into groups of five or seven for the purpose of rushing immediately to any fire in their community before the official fire fighting equipment can arrive. Their assistance would prove valuable in preventing the spread of incipient fires.

District Attorney Lowell Sparks of Auburn has been invited to speak at Tahoe around May 19 at the meeting of resort owners and business men on the importance of civilian defense. Plans should be made for the emergency evacuation of schools and all large buildings such as the Tahoe Tavern and other largely populated sections.

No definite information is available at this writing as to plans being formulated for the new fire district in town, but there should be within the next few days.

TWELVE-POUND MACKINAW TAKEN FROM TAHOE BY CHARLES STEFFEN

TAHOE CITY, May 14.— The most envied fisherman of the week in the Tahoe City district is Charles Steffen. Saturday last week he went out all alone to fish in the lake, choosing the Sunnyside Bay district. Although a resident of Tahoe for some four or more years, this was the first time he had ever tried fishing alone in the big drink. His delight knew no bounds when after only a comparatively short time he felt a sharp pull on his line—a No. 2½ copper line, incidentally—with minnows for bait. So strong was it that he was afraid he had a snag. Careful maneuvering presently proved differently and for the new few minutes he argued seriously with a beautiful 12-pound mackinaw! The big fellow finally gave in and Steffen is still looking for the most of the buttons off his shirt! This was the largest catch we have discovered in this area to date.

Fay Ellis visited the lake over the weekend and again brought in some nice big ones.

Tom Sutton of Tahoe Inn went out Sunday and brought in an eight and a half pound mackinaw from the lake.

Marshall Lowell of Auburn was also reported successful on his fishing excursion Sunday, getting the limit from the lake.

Reorganized Air Watch At Tahoe Running Smoothly

TAHOE CITY, May 14.— The new volunteer air observation post is working smoothly in town with the women taking care of the daytime hours. Mrs. Martha Burns assisted Chief Observer Clarence Vernon in arranging the present schedule and now all are in full operation.

Mrs. Hazel Sweeney of Tahoe was the first woman to stand guard on Thursday morning. The little wooden structure moved closer into town which serves as a station comes in quite handy with its stove convenient for this delayed winter weather Tahoe is experiencing. There is talk of taking up a small collection from the townsfolk to give it a coat of paint, much needed. The schedule for the women as it now stands gives each woman a four-hour turn at duty each eight days. More volunteers are needed and anyone desiring to serve please contact Mr. Vernon.

The men's schedule calls for six hour shifts every 28 days or thereabout.

Max Fleischman Called To Army Service In Week

JIM EASTON, FOLLOWING IN FAMILY TRADITION, TRAINING FOR CAREER AT SEA

TAHOE PARK, May 14.— James Earl Easton, grandson of Captain and Mrs. John Kvistberg of Tahoe Park and former Tahoe resident and student, writes to his grandmother this week of his rapid advancement in his naval training course.

Although only 22 he has already received his gyro certificate which covers the study of all centrifrically operated compasses.

He started out on his grandfather-tanker as an ordinary seaman, now has a green ticket and next his blue ticket, then became able bodied seaman, sailing to Manila, Honolulu, South America and up and down the eastern seaboard, Alaska and the Pacific seaboard from Seattle to San Pedro for two years. He is a graduate of the Alameda Maritime school and has his tankerman's certificate with other papers.

Following his graduation from the officers' naval training school at Alameda, he will go to sea again, for four months then becomes an ensign—to sea again for six months—then back to school for a lieutenant's commission. Within two years he may, at the present rate, acquire his master's license.

He has already tasted the terrors of war while on a recent trip to Australia, his fingers being blistered from operating an anti aircraft gun and his life being saved only because his ship was ordered out of the harbor the night before the Japs visited the spot and destroyed the ships and docks.

Pomins Enjoy Mother's Day Party At Tahoe Home

Their son, Harry Pomin of San Francisco visited with them for several days last week arriving Tuesday. While here he enjoyed successful fishing in the lake.

Stanley Pomin returned to Tahoe on May 4 from St. Joseph's hospital in San Francisco where he underwent an operation on his leg. He spent two days in the hospital but is now well on the way to perfect health again.

Tahoe Schools

TAHOE CITY, May 14.— The great sugar rationing project is finally concluded and the tedious job it was for our faithful teachers. Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, school site administrator here, declared that 324 applications were filed at Tahoe Lake school for the war rationing cards but only 275 books were issued.

Mrs. Bliss Hinkle, in charge of the restaurants, hotels and business firms said the polls showed approximately 13,000 pounds of sugar on hand at the present time.

Elwyn Gregory, superintendent of Placer County schools was a visitor at the Tahoe school in connection with the war rationing program on Friday.

Two new transfer students are now attending classes at Tahoe, one is Gary Todd from Blair's School in El Dorado County, in the first grade and the other Merrill Taylor from Colfax in the 7th grade.

Elementary school will close for vacation of June 19 this term, according to Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, the principal.

Films shown the local school children as part of their visual education on Friday last in the auditorium included two epic films rented from the University of California—one of the animals of the zoo and one showing the French Canadian children and the process of getting maple syrup and its processing into sugar.

On May 26 regular instrumental classes will again be resumed for Tahoe Lake school pupils by Otto Fox of Auburn. A new music pupil is Franklin Dinus of Tahoe who will take up the clarinet. Fox held regular weekly orchestra practice on Saturday last in the auditorium.

School visitors of prominence last week were Dr. E. T. Peterson, director of special school facilities of

Merry Month Of May Is Favored By Bechdolt Clan

TAHOE CITY, May 14.— The merry month of May holds real significance for the entire Bechdolt clan of Tahoe City.

On May 11, Carl, Jr., had a birthday—on May 13, his daughter, Christine became four years old—on May 28, his newest daughter, Sharon will be one year old—and on May 12 the Carl Bechdolt, Sr., observed their 30th wedding anniversary.

With Mother's Day thrown in for good measure on May 10, the Bechdolt family went to town on an appropriate celebration.

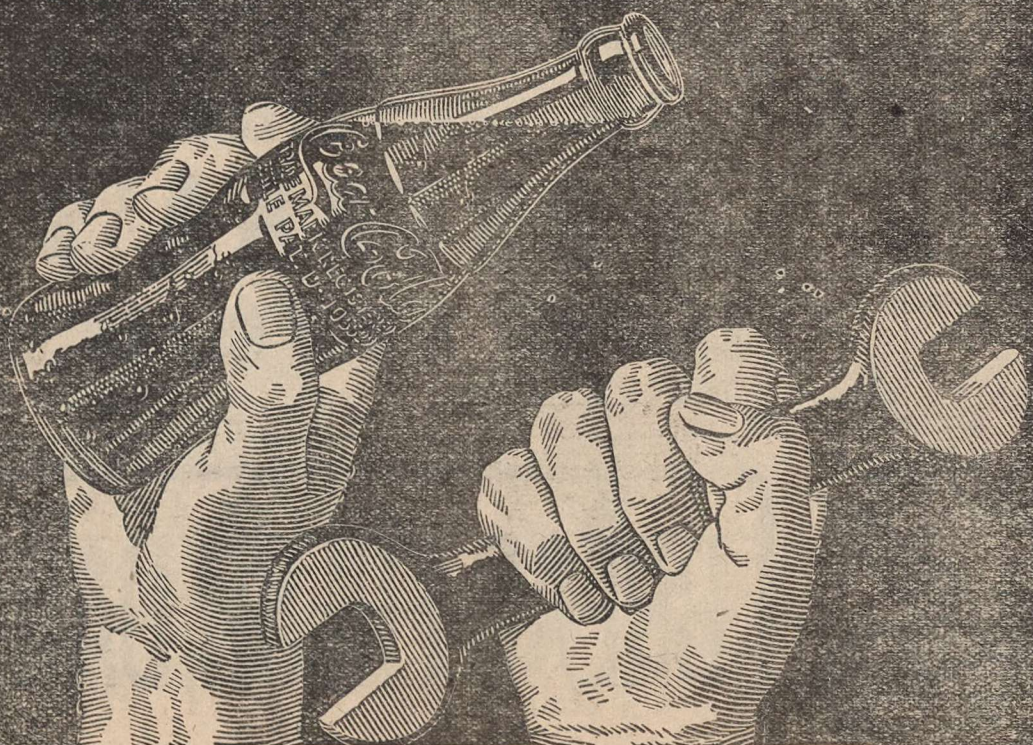

The big party was staged to cover all the important May events on Sunday, Mother's Day. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Bechdolt, Sr. and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Bechdolt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carnell, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Todd and H. F. Droste of Tahoe City and Miss Betty Abisini of Reno. The big day started with dinner and dancing at the Trocadero in Reno and ended with entertainment by the Duncan Sisters at the River House. The occasion was jovial and will long be remembered by the participants.

Paul Crandall of Tahoe Park enjoyed two successful fishing trips to Boca dam but a third expedition Sunday proved luckless.

the United States Office of Education from San Francisco and Charles Burch of the state department of education from Sacramento. They came on a tour of inspection to determine school facilities and housing conditions and to inquire into general conditions here over a period of three years past.

The Tahoe school but was laid off for a general overhauling for several days the first of the week, pupils using private cars during the emergency.

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, May 14, —(UP)—The customary jockeying around is underway as various candidates for major offices sound out the political wind and try to line up support. It is a bit formidable, for instance, for a candidate for governor to size up the undoubted strength of Republican Earl Warren and Democrat Culbert Olson and Robert Kenny. There are persistent reports that Assemblyman Gordon Garland, the aspirant for governor on the democratic ticket, may switch over to the board of equalization, although he just as strenuously insists he won't

B-25 Mitchells Prove Axis Nemesis

This is a sister ship of the North American B-25 Mitchell bombers which have been attacking the Axis on all fronts. First American Army plane to sink a German U-boat in the Atlantic, ten of this particular type participated in the 4000-mile raid on the Philippines April 13. A few days later Tokyo identified the planes which bombed four Japanese cities as B-25's.

change. Republican Wallace Ware, the first man in the field was implored by an open letter from 160,000 women members of the Pacific to change over to attorney general, where his leadership could be put to advantage.

Assemblyman Jack Tenney of Los Angeles said he would run for Kenney's vacant seat in the senate but now he's thinking about attorney general, despite the fact he would be bucking the well-known Secretary of State Paul Peek on the democratic ticket. And Assemblyman Sam Yorty already switched from lieutenant governor, might file for the senate post if Tenney stays out.

Republican Roger Jessup of Los Angeles, another republican aspirant for governor, has been urged to be Warren's running mate as lieutenant governor but is still on the fence. Justus Craemer, another potential republican gubernatorial nominee before Warren got in, likewise was urged to run for lieutenant governor but likely will stay clear. He has promised a final decision soon but is expected to throw his support to Warren in the interests of a united party.

Another campaign is developing to get former Attorney General U. S. Webb back in the political wars as a candidate for his old job. He put in 30 years on the job before he retired four years ago to let Warren take over the important spot. He is well known in republican circles and was halfway determined to run for governor until Warren came out.

In a big field, the well-known names of Webb and Peek more than likely would stand the best chance. And it is certain that there will be a wide open scramble for the attorney general's spot.

Now that James Rolph III is out for lieutenant governor officially, some of the lesser lights may not actually file. Rolph piled up more total votes than any other candidate in 1938 but failed to gain either nomination when Ellis Patterson nosed him out for the democratic nomination and Dr. Franklin nabbed the republican bid. Both these contenders will be back to the wars, in addition to Olson sponsored J. C. Garrison and probably some other potential vote getters, so a hot race is a sure bet.

No one seems anxious to contest for the secretary of state job being vacated by Peek, leading to the obvious conclusion that Republican Frank M. Jordan will be the favorite to win. Jordan has a well-known political name in California, made famous so many years by his secretary of state father, and the job is not one to attract big-money campaigns. Naturally, the democrats will attempt to hold the spot.

Acting Director Kenneth Fulton of the state defense council, who doubles in brass as state director of natural resources and close advisor of the governor, ran into considerable opposition regarding the hiring of some 26 new employees for high-salaried defense jobs. The department of finance was backed by the state personnel board that Fulton had disregarded normal procedure in putting the new employees to work before clearance or budgetary approval had been received.

There is little doubt that the personnel board collectively is the most caustic and "tough" on the state books. Unfortunate persons incurring the board's wrath really get worked over, and Fulton was no exception.

It looked for a while as if he might be liable personally for two months wages to employees getting salaries between $335 and $200, but the board finally voted retroactive salaries provided the workers are qualified. Board members said the workers themselves were not at fault and should not be penalized for the incompetence of superiors.

YOUNGER MEN MAY BE CALLED FOR SERVICE JULY 1, OFFICIALS SAY

Selective Service Director Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said this week that men 18 to 20 would be registered around July 1, if possible, and at least by late summer.

Hershey, attending an American Legion executive committee meeting in Indianapolis, said that congress might be asked to amend the selective service law to allow drafting of men under 20.

He remarked that the government would be lucky if it got five per cent of its army from the group over 37 years of age.

Selective service does not plan to strip the field of men with dependents to meet army requirements.

Men beyond 35 not in essential industries, however, will be called provided their families have enough income for reasonable support, he said. "And I mean reasonable support," he added, "not necessarily on the level to which the family has been accustomed."

SACRAMENTO DESIGNATED EVACUATION RELIEF BASE

SACRAMENTO, May 14, —(UP)—Sacramento has been designated as the northern California receiving center for injured and sick persons from "target cities" along the coast in the event of enemy bombing, it was announced by the state defense council.

SUGAR SUBSTITUTES

The ancient Greeks and Romans never heard of sugar—they used honey. Use of honey, syrups and other sugar substitutes in place of sugar during the rationing days, is explained in a recipe book, prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, with the caption line, "Victory Begins at Home." It may be obtained by writing the Consumer Division, Office of Price Administration, 1355 Market Street, San Francisco.

BEER DRINKERS URGED TO BUY LARGE BOTTLES TO PREVENT SHORTAGE

A warning that beer drinkers will face shortage of their favorite beverage unless the public buys beer in quart and half-gallon bottles instead of the usual 11 ounce bottle was voiced yesterday by Karl F. Schuster, president of Acme Breweries and a member of the advisory committee of the Brewing Industry Division of the War Production Board. Reason for the warning is recent rationing of bottle caps to conserve metal for war industries, affecting all beverage using bottles.

"There is plenty of beer," Schuster said, "and there are plenty of bottles. But there is a shortage of bottle tops. And the only way this supply of bottle tops can be stretched out so that everyone may continue to enjoy beer is by using fewer tops for delivering the same amount of beer. That means that, whenever possible, the public should buy beer in quart and half-gallon bottles instead of the customary 11-ounce size."

Acme Breweries has already launched a large newspaper advertising campaign to educate the public to the need for conserving bottle tops by purchasing the larger size bottles and to point out the convenience and economy of doing so. "As always," Schuster states, "when we have an educational message, we find that newspapers offer the one best way of telling our story."

He has organized an efficient body of men to assist in any emergency and at the same time also holds in reserve the regular sheriff's posse to serve as reserve civilian police. His organization has been approved by both the U. S. military and state authorities, and is complete to the last detail.

Nevada County's sheriff is known over almost all of the west as a courteous, fearless officer and has the respect of law enforcement agencies with whom he cooperates.

In his two terms of office he has handled 1800 prisoners and none of them has escaped, an excellent record. He has never used third degree methods but has obtained confessions from many criminals by studying their mental processes and using kind treatment and understanding of their personalities to get desired information.

Pointing to the fact that he has administered the duties of the office without fear or favor, Sheriff Tobiasen said that policy will always be adhered to and peoples' civil rights and property will be protected on the basis of equality for everyone.
